

Axtel PRO Duo NC WB

A Reliable Device for Active Users

The Pro Series was specifically designed for dynamic contact centers. This headset is a versatile tool suitable for intense work and combines robustness, stylish design, along with high-quality sound.

The PRO headsets are made with carefully tested materials and characterized by their high resistance to mechanical damage. The headband construction is additionally reinforced with metal alloy, which ensures its exceptional durability.

Wideband sound provides the consultant with the capabilities to understand customers and focus on their main needs. Furthermore, the microphone along with its excellent noise cancellation eliminates noise heard in loud rooms, so that the customer hears only the agent and not the surrounding background noise.
